

TASS Wertpapierhandelsbank has been active for over 16 years as an established player in interbank trading. Through our internationally recognized know-how in the segment of floating rate notes and a healthy corporate growth we are expanding not only in staff but also in our fields of business. Our market entry to fixed rate bonds has profited from a growing demand as well as from the synergy effects between the segments fixed and floating. We have an immediate opening for a

Senior Trader Fixed Income (m/f)

You have several years work experience as a securities trader / broker and have substantial knowledge in the segments variable and fixed rate bonds as well as international contacts in the interbank market. You know how to establish and maintain trusting customer relations. When doing so you profit from business fluent English, even better from an additional native language. As an absolute team player you integrate yourself well into a harmonic team of 19 traders and retain composure even in phases of market turbulence. You attend to your clients with creativity, flexibility and initiative. In doing so you are able to incorporate the information given to you from colleagues into key trading strategies.

We offer an interesting and diversified position with long-term perspectives and all the advantages of a modern, ambitious company. You profit from above-average benefits and diverse possibilities for further career training. Your place of employment is Hofheim am Taunus in the middle of the Rhine Main Area and in close proximity to the financial metropolis Frankfurt am Main.
